Falley Field became the home for Washburn baseball in 1990. Since the first game in 1990 Falley Field has been a great venue for baseball in the MIAA. The ballpark will soon undergo major improvements and make the setting among the elite in NCAA Division II.

Initial plans for Falley Field include five major changes. The foul lines will be reconfigured and the current fencing will be replaced by 4-foot wooden fencing along the foul lines along with 8-foot fencing in the outfield.

Three additional batting cages will be installed along the left field line and bullpens will be constructed to run parallel along each foul line. An equipment and maintenance facility will be added adjacent to the right field bullpen. The infield surface will be recrowned and astroturf will be installed to replace existing surface.
