2003-04 MIAA Championship Team: Head Coach Doug Hamilton, Chris McGown, Paul Resner, Garrett Donovan, Matt Warnock and Matt Johnston.

LAWRENCE, Kan. -- The defending conference champion Washburn Ichabods completed their spring-season rally with a victory in the MIAA Tournament at Alvarado Golf Club Tuesday (April 20), which gave them the needed points in the standings to surpass Missouri Southern for the conference title.

The Washburn Ichabods won their second straight MIAA Championship and won the MIAA Tournament that concluded on Tuesday at Alvarado Golf Club in Lawrence, Kan. The Ichabods were led by Chris McGown, who finished second in the two-day event after shooting an even par. The Ichabods entered the final conference event 2.5 points behind Missouri Southern in the MIAA standings. The MIAA Tournament is worth double the points of the other four events on the schedule, so Washburn needed to win and have the Lions finish no better than a tie for second to end up on top. Southern ended the first 27 holes 16 strokes behind Washburn, but were only two behind second-place Central Missouri State. The Lions couldn't keep pace with the Mules on the final day, as CMSU was 13 better than Southern over the last 27 holes with a 438.

When all was said and done, Washburn was 11 strokes better than the Mules with a 54-hole, four-man total of 884. Missouri Western equaled the Ichabods' 441 on the second day, which allow the Griffons to finish third in the tourney with a 908, two better than the Lions in fourth.

Washburn had three golfers in the top 10, led by Chris McGown's even-par 216 and a three-over 219 from Matt Warnock. They were second and third to top medalist Brice Garnett of Western, who shot the first nine holes Tuesday at three-under par and finished with a one-under par 215 for the 54 holes.
